Passport to Adventure: Embark! Get your passports in order, we're off to see the world... but first... should you pack your parka or your flip flops? Which time zone, climate and geographical feature will your visits be in? Let's find out: use a pin map to plan our trip. Come this week and get your votes in for the whistle stops in Europe! Geography, map skills and problem solving are all on the table this week! For Fun Friday we'll travel to Lehigh Valley Zoo and seek out animals from each continent.

Whirlwind Tour of Europe: Five major cities in five countries, in five days! Can we survive it? Who needs sleep? Expect to see: the greatest geographical or cultural feature of each whistle stop! We'll sample the food, games, dances, dress and language of each culture. For Fun Friday, we will be getting a special visit from local artist and author, Rachel Yoder, who will be teaching us about European art history and unique styles from legendary artists!

Seeking South America: The most ancient, tallest, wettest, saltiest, wildest and most celebratory places in South America will all be explored! P.S. Bring one of Dad's old ties along with you...and watch it slither home! For Fun Friday, we will get to explore frogs, snakes, and insects galore! The Perkiomen Watershed Conservancy is going to teach us about some vibrant, sneaky, and wild rainforest creatures. They will also show us how to spot the ones that live in your neighborhood!

Explorers Afield: North America: What's a subcontinent? Let's find out! Tropical to frozen, North America has it all! We'll zigzag from Canada to Mexico, Alaska to the Florida Keys. For Fun Friday, pack your swimming bag! (We'll go to a Luau...)

America the Beautiful: Our country just celebrated its 242nd birthday! Each day this week we will visit a region and learn about the geography, famous landmarks, and unique culture. For Fun Friday a field trip to American Treasure Tour in Oaks will be planned.

A Trip through Asia: Asia is our largest continent with the tallest mountain on Earth. We will explore the diversity of five different countries this week through folk tales, music, and art. Friday we will cook or order take-out for lunch!

Going on Safari to: Travel to the continent of Africa to see amazing animals in their natural habitat. That's what we will explore through stories and crafts. Our special event will be to a set up a movie theater at school to watch the Disney classic Lion King.

An Antarctic Adventure: We might be complaining about how hot it is, but let's think about how cold it is right now in Antarctica's winter! We'll study the adaptations of plants and animals that live in this polar continent. For Fun Friday we'll learn about a different kind of ice as we tour Rita's Water Ice, yum!

G'day from Australia: Our last week of camp and we will be traveling "down under". We'll study the different habitats of Australia this week through stories, games, and crafts. Our last day of camp will be a swim party at the Bally Community Pool!
